HOW ACCESS THE AEG PUBLICATIONS

The following publications are produced by the AEG:

1. Environmental and Engineering Geoscience Journal
2. AEG News magazine
3. Annual report and Directory of AEG members
4. AEG Annual Program with Abstracts
5. Special Publications on technical topics

Details of each and how to access them:

1. Environmental and Engineering Geoscience Journal

Published quarterly, the journal includes peer reviewed manuscripts which may be theoretical or applied contributions.

The titles and abstracts are freely available to all visitors the AEG website, however, full articles are only available to full members. Members can download individual articles via the AEG website. Print copies of the journal may be ordered at an additional cost of $35 when joining or renewing membership on line.

2. AEG News magazine

Published four times a year, it includes interesting articles as well as news and updates within the association, profession and general industry.

Only the current issue is available to view for free to all visitors of the AEG website. Back issues are available on order at $10 each. Print copies are however included in the International membership fee of $55.

3. Annual Report and Directory of AEG Members

Published once a year in January, it is in a similar electronic and print format to the AEG news. The electronic format is available for free on the AEG website, whereas the print copy is included when subscribing to either the $45 or $55 International membership categories.

4. Annual Program with Abstracts

Published once a year in July and in a similar print format to the AEG news, it is only available in print format when subscribing to the $45 or $55 International membership categories. It includes the programme and abstracts for the AEG Annual Meeting, which is hosted in a different city in the USA each year.

5. Special Publications on technical topics

Published and posted on the AEG website as and when they become available.
